Senior Front-end Developer

Job Description

We are looking for an experienced and dynamic senior front-end developer who is passionate about the art and science of user experience design and believes in the principals of software craftsmanship.

You will be part of the dev team, helping to ideate, shape, and build the LeadCrunch product. Your primary responsibilities will be to build a beautiful front-end for interfacing with our AI engines. However, we strongly believe in building a culture of continuous learning and growth of knowledge by giving all members of the team the opportunity to contribute at all levels of the tech and data science stacks.

Come talk to us if you're interested in becoming part of the LeadCrunch team.

Skills & Requirements

Key Responsibilities:
- Take design ideas and transform them into beautiful and user friendly web pages
- Use data driven approach to experiment and improve on UX designs
- Create and maintain reusable JavaScript and CSS
- Contribute across our entire web stack

Qualifications:
- Master of JavaScript (or, you know, pretty good)
- Expertise in CSS3 and CSS preprocessors (e.g., Sass, LESS)
- Expertise in HTML5 and accessible responsive design
- Familiarity with SQL and NoSQL databases (e.g., PostgreSQL, MongoDB)
- Experience with the Meteor framework (or Node.js) a huge plus
- Dedication to continuous improvement of your software development skills
- Contributions to open source projects a plus

To apply please submit a short cover letter (composed in the email is fine) and resume jobs@leadcrunch.com.

About LeadCrunch

LeadCrunch is the hottest AI SaaS startup in the explosive B2B sector. We're fortunate to be based in San Diego, where we can take full advantage of true work-life balance and benefit from a growing list of resources for the startup community. LeadCrunch is changing the way B2B
