Do you have experience with building web applications using latest technologies? Looking for a chance to help lead development of a web application as part of a small, high-energy startup team?

We are a Carlsbad based startup getting ready to launch an exciting web application for a new way of business collaboration. The designs and concepts are complete and your first job would be to help develop a proof of concept prototype.

We are looking for someone who fits the following profile:

- Has experience building web application front and back ends using a combination of technologies including HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript and jQuery.
- Has experience with database systems such as MySQL
- Has the ability to recommend and implement best technology and processes.

If this sounds like you; you need to respond!

Here's what we have to offer:

- Flexible work hours (this could be 2\textsuperscript{nd} job)
- Work from home or any location.
- A high degree of autonomy and flexibility to help us build the best product we can
- An opportunity to make your mark on a product
- A chance to be one of the first employees of a company poised to see growth in the year ahead
